WDGC, later Architectura and since 2003 Stantec Architecture - International architecture, planning and interiors firm, headquartered in Vancouver, British Columbia, with over 90 experienced professionals. Expertise in the airport, entertainment, themed attractions, education, retail, and hospitality sectors to provide creative solutions. Portfolio also included commercial, institutional, and civic facilities. Architectura was engaged in sustainable developments with professional, personal and social responsibility. Given our increasing awareness of the planet's finite resources and of the ecological strains imposed by growth and development Architectura was professionally compelled to be increasingly sophisticated and passionate in practice of sustainable design in the broadest definition.

Musson Cattell Mackey Partnership (MCMP) – one of Western Canada's largest architectural practices. Since the inception in 1965, the Vancouver, B.C. - based company has become an innovative and award-winning industry leader by providing comprehensive architectural and design services to diverse clients. MCMP's wide-ranging portfolio included projects in the commercial, retail, residential, health care and hospitality industries. In mid 90s - 60 architects, technical and administrative staff, including an associated interior design firm, MCM Interiors Ltd. provided the highest-quality service available. Innovative concepts, proficient planning and professional project management were company hallmarks. The partnership combined a strong design orientation with a depth of solid expertise in construction, cost control, codes and contract administration. MCMP provided design services for international projects.
